Remember Back When - ?

As reviewed by Maurice Woodworth
Stead of Prof. John J. West, Douglas County High School

That you do or don't any of the 'old' things, most likely the reason will be that you have either gone away or that you are in too much of a hurry to stop and think of the old things. That is what the 'Remember Back When - ?' feature is about.

(Sixth of A Series)

You were a teenager about 50 years ago, and ten years later you recently and closed your doors for the summer vacation. You probably were not yet free for there were two or three months to wait before the beginning of the fall. Perhaps you were already looking forward to the calendar which for persons of your age would be pretty soon followed:

1. The signing of the Declaration of Independence and the gaining of our liberty. These two holidays were closely related as far as the memory of your ancestors was concerned.

There was a reverent instinct that aroused your curiosity. So you hunched up old denims and journeyed on to that woods beyond the ridge overlooking the town. Or perhaps the curiosity was the result of the church hour just beyond the end of the lane just beyond the outskirts of town. The two stalwart pines at either side of the entrance or the climbing roses on the gate posts beckoned you to enter into the wire fence enclosure. You hesitated a moment and was amazed at the negligence and lack of care of the people who had loved you. After 12 months of careless disregard, one of the stonemarkers even was obscured by the growth of weeds and wild shrubbery. You looked to the nature of your distress, so by enlisting the aid of neighbors, the weeds were removed, the pathway was trimmed and the engaged crew could come in with a carpet of velvet. As May 28 rolled around the graves of your beloved had been decorated with flags and flowers in the spirit that would have pleased them. You had loved. The resting place once again was alive with beauty arranged by your own hands.

And on that Fourth of July from the time of arising early that morning you somehow were packing your suitcases filling little things. And so to the several days:

As to those preceding days: what had there been posted by the useless and continuous noise falling into the night, and an uninterrupted yet careless firing of the roof of a true home in the loss of the entire structure? In what way did this flareup of rage compensate for the loss of an eye or the losing of a hand, or the frightening of horses with the result of an injury or death to the man beneath the bombshell?

However, it is true there were celebrations of a more serene nature but those Civil war speeches were too dull for you teenagers to stand patiently in that blazing sun. You had studied about our patriotic fatherland in school.

Section 17 is hereby amended in part to read as follows:

"A permit and service connection shall be made as follows: For a water tap of 6 inches in diameter a deposit of $26.00, and for a water service shall be refunded to depositor, less any unpaid bill due Town Treasurer in the water fund."

ORDER NO. 42

That Ordinance No. 162 as amended by Ordinance No. 164 be now amended as follows:

Since 1928, City of Castle Rock has been home to Byram, L. C., Nelson, L. S., and Lorna Binford. Lorna Binford spent Saturday in the city.

GREETINGS,

By Lorna Binford

Greetings,

It's a beautiful fall day here, no wind, sun shining, it's really nice. Barbara Ashburn and I had a very nice time at my house this past Wednesday, Gary Brown and David Sorensen will be up here on Saturday. I hope some of the other kids did too. Larus Bloom spent Saturday in Denver and Connie Woodword will be here on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Bloom came by yesterday. (Sunday), want to church with Larus and then they visited with friends in Ft. Collins.

I was asked about our studying here up here, and if we had any study habits. Yes, we do, sometimes they suffer (really, not very often). Nearlly all of us have a free hour in the morning between classes, and usually free time in the afternoon. There are different ways to utilize these, so when we study, we usually come back to the dorms, but if that is not convenient, we go to the library or to the Student Union. I think almost everyone is out of classes after 5 p.m. so we usually come back to the dorm and start on our homework, eat dinner, and then finish our work. One of the best things to do is to make a time schedule and POST IT. Find out how much time you have and divide it up, allow some free time too, and study accordingly. We've found that a schedule certainly helps to get our confusion organized.

The teachers up here want us to get our assignments done on time, but if we don't they're not going to make us do it, we are on our own. The assignments are not nearly as hard as school, and not much written work through. There is a lot of reading. One high school teacher who made us notes in class. Even though we didn't like it, SUKE has helped us out. In classes of 150-200 students you have to criss cross your own eye, you don't get individual attention. Another thing that differs from high school in our study time in the dorms. At home when we studied, the radio was on or we could sit in our room and study.

There are always some special meetings of the various groups whether it be band, orchestra, or the student union. I think almost everyone is out of classes after 5 p.m. so we usually come back to the dorm and start on our homework, eat dinner, and then finish our work.

There are always some special meetings of the various groups whether it be band, orchestra, or the student union. I think almost everyone is out of classes after 5 p.m. so we usually come back to the dorm and start on our homework, eat dinner, and then finish our work. One of the best things to do is to make a time schedule and POST IT. Find out how much time you have and divide it up, allow some free time too, and study accordingly. We've found that a schedule certainly helps to get our confusion organized.

The teachers up here want us to get our assignments done on time, but if we don't they're not going to make us do it, we are on our own. The assignments are not nearly as hard as school, and not much written work through. There is a lot of reading. One high school teacher who made us notes in class. Even though we didn't like it, SUKE has helped us out. In classes of 150-200 students you have to criss cross your own eye, you don't get individual attention. Another thing that differs from high school in our study time in the dorms. At home when we studied, the radio was on or we could sit in our room and study.

What does it mean to you?
Simply—and very importantly—this: For the first time a Pontiac V-8 gives you better mileage than from many smaller so-called "economy cars" .... and get it on regular fuel!

If you owned a Pontiac with this new Tempes 420E V-8 you'd be saving up to 3 cents a gallon on this fuel. This new V-8 is optional at no extra cost on any Hydra-Matic Pontiac!

Further to our destination we made all five people glad that we had come. And we found a cabin—$6.50 he said. With wide roads beckoning us on and not quite ready to return—

Standing poised so perfectly out in the clear sun we saw a beautiful woman. As we were drawn near, she said.

FROM THE STATEHOUSE
BY HAROLD K. KNIGHT

If the weather next spring in Colorado is as "nice" as it was this last spring — meaning the absence of alternate freezing and thawing — the grasshopper menace will as great as it has been this year.

This is the indication of the fall survey of adult grasshoppers by federal and state entomologists. The survey shows 2,665,000 acres infected, compared to 24,616,000 acres reported infected last year. The 1967 fall survey showed that less than 3,000,000 acres were considered threatened at that time.

The infestation ranges from light — three to seven hoppers per square yard — to very heavy, 100 or more per square yard.

Seven hoppers per square yard destroy as much grass as a cow rate, according to Larry Pheo, administrative officer of the State Department of Agriculture. Any number over that is considered threatening.

The location of the infestation is quite different than last spring. On the Western Slope, for instance, large areas of range land are very severely infested in Arapahoe and Mesa counties, while patches of Moffat, Mesa, and Montrose counties are threatened.

Two of the Eastern Slope counties have varying degrees of infestation, but areas where there was a widespread spraying that hoppers are free of the threat. In Prowers County, for example, where 910 acres were sprayed, only 35,000 acres are threatened on the southeast corner of the county. (Too lightly infested for spraying last summer) are threatened.

Very severe infestation is shown in Prowers, Huerfano, Las Animas, Logan and Baca counties with especially heavy hoppers in Jefferson, Arapahoe, A.d a.m., Boulder, Larimer, Weld, Weld, Pueblo, and Phillips counties. While damage to sage and winter wheat is possible until a hard freeze kills all the hoppers, what happens next year depends on the weather during the hatching and growing season and migration of hoppers from other areas.

The threat, however, is as great if not greater than that which caused the special session in June. The return of an anticipated million dollars from the hoper dist- rict fund to the general fund does not mean it was not needed —but that the spraying programs could not be organized on a vast enough scale. Perhaps an even bigger program and expenditures will be needed next year.

A more immediate threat, however, is that of being unable to harvest the corn crop, blown down by last week's high winds in northwestern Colorado before snow deteriorates it. When Agricultural Paul Stevich reported to Gov. Steve McNeill that from 40 to 80 percent of a big crop was down in Morgan and Logan counties, the governor directed the State Employment Service to send as many laborers as possible into the area. The mechanical corn pickers, of course, will not work when the stalks are on the ground. Even in this day and age, labor is sometimes necessary!

In addition to the return of the estimated million dollar grain crop unsalable in the $6,000,000 paid out of revenue before the end of the fiscal year next month.

This is $700,000 more than estimated by the welfare department only a few weeks ago. The increased cost of the study of detailed application of the new insecticidal sprays in which a $15,000,000 was spent was traced to increased labor costs.

This is the indication of the survey.

Pennsylvania farms — mostly in the Pacific Northwest — paid $3.7 million last year for ancillary services. The survey shows 9,368,000 acres were considered threatened.

In light — three to seven hoppers per square yard — to very heavy, 100 or more per square yard. These hours of heavy traffic combined with dusk can bring tragedies.

These are danger hours on the highways. Even in this day and age, handi-"

FINALE

Douglas County rang down the curtain for 1958, losing a heart-breaker to the Boys in Blue from Widefield, 25-21. This was a real thriller so far as the crowd was concerned. Widefield won the toss and chose to receive on the north goal. Simmons threw the kickoff of the 15. Twelve plays later they scored from the five, and Means carried over for the extra point. Ehrmann took the kickoff of the 25 and promptly came back to the 10. Eleanor's initial try went for ten yards and a first down. Hirst then lateral-ed to Cherne who traveled the distance for the TD. The try for the extra point failed and this was the half point.

Widefield received the next kickoff on the 20, where the ball was donated for no return. Nore threw Flinsinger for a 4-yard gain. Schonlau stopped Means for a short gain (return envelope out of bounds and off field). Asham, (33) failed to carry. Widefield kicked to the Rocks. Pamplin passed to Means who latered to the Rocks kickoff (re-fired deep return) for another 15. Hirst's pass was incomplete in the end zone. Asham was downed for no return. Noe was the ball game.

Play later, the Rocks kicked (dog) Asham (33) failed to carry. The extra point failed and this was a first down. Hirst then lateral-ed to Cherne. Cherne hit Hirst with a perfect block and shock. Cherne got into the open for a TD run. WOW! What a time. This took the score to 12-0.

During the half, the Band and Pop also really turned on a very fine drill and band concert. If you missed this you missed half the game. This outfit is a real thriller so far as the crowd was concerned. Widefield took the kickoff and re-took to the 11. Orr and Schonlau returned to the 26. Penalty took the ball back to the 34. Forker and Asham added the extra back on the 2. Revar plunged over the goal line and made it. The try for extra points was good. Revar plunged over the goal line and made it.
